

Wopedale, Mass. Feb. 3d. 1870.

Dear Garrison,

Our bereaved Bro. Draper meant to have bespoken your kind interposition, in getting a brief notice of his wife's translation inserted in "the Independent", if possible without charge - perhaps from your own pen, or Bro. Oliver Johnson's, who once made his home with them six months. He thought that if you could send a few words to him, with a line or two asking his favor in the case, all would be cheerfully done that he wishes. I write this to you by his special request. I have written an obituary, which he will get inserted in "the Woman's Journal" "Anti-S. Standard" &c. In haste with kindest regards to you & yours,

Adin Ballou
